

Criteria to Consider in Planning, Implementation, & Evaluation:

Do your coursework and practica with families address the following criteria?

Criteria:	Coursework: Examples from your program	Fieldwork: Examples from your program
Diverse: Opportunity to learn about and work with a variety of families including those from cultures or circumstances different from the mainstream or students' background
Authentic: Responsive to specific demographics represented in your community
Comprehensive: Learning and experience with a variety of service delivery models in a variety of locations that are responsive to family needs priorities and resources
Representative: Learning opportunities represent scientifically-based practice (eg. family centered, culturally competent, ecologically based, collaborative, etc.)
Evidence-Based: Provides opportunity to engage in evidence-based decision-making with family members
Competency-Based: Skill development of students includes interpersonal skills, interviewing skills, communication skills, responsibility and follow-through, etc.		