Types of CEC Membership

The following types of membership are available in the Council for Exceptional Children:

Premier membership provides all Professional membership benefits (see below), plus:

- Bonus publication selected especially for CEC's Premier members
- CEC Policy Insider via e-mail
- Presidential Points e-mail update from the CEC President
- Early-bird, priority registration and housing reservations for the CEC Annual Convention & Expo
- Opportunity to provide your input and opinion to CEC leadership on issues affecting the Council and your profession

Professional membership includes:

- TEACHING Exceptional Children (6 issues per year)
- Exceptional Children (4 issues per year)
- CEC Today (6 issues per year)
- Eligibility to join CEC professional divisions
- Discounts on publications and professional development programs including the CEC Annual Convention & Expo
- Networking opportunities including numerous listserves
- CEC Online Job Board
- Access to Members-Only sections of the CEC Web site
- And much more!

Student membership provides all the benefits of Professional membership at a special student rate. Student members must be a full-time student at an accredited college or university; or a part-time student who is not engaged in full-time employment as a certified professional in the field of education.

Associate membership is for parents and family members who do not work full-time in the field of education, paraprofessionals, and the general public. Associate members have on-line access to the CEC journals, but do not receive hard copy by mail.

Joint membership provides all the benefits of Professional membership for two persons. The pair of members receive one set of CEC professional publications (TEACHING Exceptional Children and Exceptional Children), but maintain two separate "files" so that each can join different divisions.

Retired membership provides all the benefits of Professional membership at a special rate. To qualify, you must have officially retired from your employing agency, been a member of CEC for at least ten (10) years prior to retirement, and have not accepted another full-time position. (CEC members holding a Retired membership as of December 31, 2005 are exempt from the 10-year membership requirement.)

CEC Professional Divisions

CEC Divisions are special organizations which concentrate on a particular exceptionality of children or a unique aspect of special education.
